TOWARD EFFECTIVENESS

True Colors™ is not merely a personality test, but a metaphor for describing human behavior. It doesn't label or "box" people into set behaviors, instead it skillfully identifies individuals based on similar characteristics.

A True Colors™ workshop facilitated by TCB reinforces effective interpersonal interactions by providing a non-threatening framework for exploring and understanding the needs and strengths of others in a fun and easy-to-understand format!

True Colors™ assumes that each individual is a spectrum of four colors or personality temperaments, but operates through a primary color (or temperament) to communicate and interact with others.

Our workshops deliver intellectually stimulating information about human behavior while grabbing the interest and imagination of the participants

No one can customize a high energy, interactive workshop like TCB!
